NON-DISCLOSURE AGREEMENT

This Non-Disclosure Agreement ("Agreement") is entered into as of the date of last signature below (the "Effective Date") by and between Waystar Inc., a corporation organized and existing under the laws of the State of Delaware with principal offices located at 303 East Wacker Drive, Chicago, Illinois 60601 ("Disclosing Party"), and Hooli Corp., a corporation organized and existing under the laws of the State of California with principal offices located at 1355 Market Street, San Francisco, California 94103 ("Receiving Party").

Section 1. Purpose

The parties desire to disclose to each other certain confidential and proprietary information regarding potential business opportunities, technology platforms, and strategic partnerships, and wish to protect the confidentiality of such information through this Agreement.

Section 2. Confidential Information

For purposes of this Agreement, "Confidential Information" means all non-public information, whether in written, oral, electronic, or visual form, disclosed by the Disclosing Party to the Receiving Party that relates to business operations, technical specifications, financial data, customer lists, trade secrets, methodologies, software code, product development plans, and business strategies. Confidential Information shall be clearly marked as confidential at the time of disclosure or identified as confidential in writing within ten business days of oral disclosure.

Section 3. Exclusions from Confidential Information

Notwithstanding Section 2, Confidential Information does not include information that: (a) is or becomes publicly available through no breach of this Agreement; (b) was lawfully possessed by the Receiving Party prior to disclosure as evidenced by written records; (c) is rightfully received by the Receiving Party from a third party without confidentiality restrictions; or (d) is independently developed by the Receiving Party without access to or use of the Confidential Information.

Section 4. Obligations of Receiving Party

The Receiving Party agrees to: (a) maintain the Confidential Information in strict confidence using the same degree of care it uses to protect its own confidential information, but no less than reasonable care; (b) limit disclosure of Confidential Information to employees, contractors, and advisors who have a legitimate need to know and who are bound by written confidentiality obligations at least as restrictive as those contained herein; (c) use the Confidential Information solely for evaluating the business opportunity described in Section 1; and (d) refrain from reverse engineering, disassembling, or attempting to derive the underlying trade secrets contained in any Confidential Information.

Section 5. Legally Compelled Disclosure

If the Receiving Party is required by law, regulation, court order, or governmental authority to disclose any Confidential Information, the Receiving Party shall, to the extent permitted by law, promptly notify the Disclosing Party in writing to enable the Disclosing Party to seek protective measures or seek a protective order.

Section 6. Payment Obligation

Hooli Corp. shall pay Waystar Inc. a fee of One Hundred Sixty-Three Thousand Dollars ($163,000.00) within thirty days of the Effective Date as consideration for access to the Confidential Information and entry into this Agreement. Such payment shall be made by wire transfer to an account designated by Waystar Inc.

Section 7. Term and Termination

This Agreement shall commence on the Effective Date and shall continue for a period of two years unless earlier terminated by either party upon fifteen days' written notice to the other party. The obligations set forth in Sections 2, 4, and 5 shall survive termination for a period of three years following the date of termination.

Section 8. Governing Law

This Agreement shall be governed by and construed in accordance with the laws of the State of New York, without regard to its conflict of laws principles.

Section 9. Entire Agreement

This Agreement constitutes the entire agreement between the parties concerning the subject matter and supersedes all prior negotiations and agreements.
