NON-DISCLOSURE AGREEMENT

This Non-Disclosure Agreement ("Agreement") is entered into as of January 15, 2024 ("Effective Date"), by and between Cyberdyne Inc., a Florida corporation ("Disclosing Party"), and Globex Corp., a Delaware corporation ("Receiving Party").

Section 1. Purpose and Confidential Information

The parties agree to disclose certain proprietary, technical, and business information to each other for the purpose of evaluating a potential business partnership in the field of advanced manufacturing solutions. "Confidential Information" means all information disclosed by the Disclosing Party to the Receiving Party, whether orally, in writing, or by other means, that is marked as confidential or would reasonably be understood to be confidential given its nature and circumstances of disclosure, including but not limited to technical specifications, business plans, financial data, customer lists, software code, and trade secrets.

Section 2. Obligations of Receiving Party

The Receiving Party agrees to maintain the confidentiality of all Confidential Information received from the Disclosing Party and to protect such information using the same degree of care it uses to protect its own confidential information, but in no case less than reasonable care. The Receiving Party shall limit access to Confidential Information to employees, contractors, and advisors who have a legitimate need to know such information and who are bound by written confidentiality obligations at least as stringent as those contained herein.

Section 3. Permitted Disclosures

The Receiving Party may disclose Confidential Information only as required by law, court order, or governmental authority, provided that the Receiving Party shall give prompt written notice to the Disclosing Party of such required disclosure to permit the Disclosing Party to seek protective measures. The Receiving Party shall cooperate reasonably with the Disclosing Party in seeking such protective measures.

Section 4. Exceptions

Confidential Information shall not include information that is or becomes publicly available through no breach of this Agreement by the Receiving Party, information rightfully received by the Receiving Party from third parties without confidentiality obligations, information independently developed by the Receiving Party without use of the Confidential Information, or information rightfully known to the Receiving Party prior to disclosure.

Section 5. Term and Termination

This Agreement shall commence on the Effective Date and continue for a period of one year, unless earlier terminated. Either party may terminate this Agreement upon fifteen days written notice to the other party. Upon termination, the Receiving Party shall return or certify the destruction of all Confidential Information within thirty days of termination, except that the Receiving Party may retain one archival copy for legal compliance purposes.

Section 6. No License or Obligation

Nothing in this Agreement shall be construed as granting any license, right, or interest in Confidential Information except as expressly provided herein. Neither party is obligated to disclose any particular information or to proceed with any business relationship.

Section 7. Payment

Cyberdyne Inc. shall pay Globex Corp. the sum of One Hundred Eighty-Nine Thousand Dollars ($189,000.00) within thirty days of the Effective Date as consideration for Globex Corp.'s participation in preliminary technical discussions and evaluation activities.

Section 8. No Warranty

All Confidential Information is provided on an "as-is" basis without warranty of any kind, express or implied. The Disclosing Party makes no representations regarding the accuracy, completeness, or non-infringement of any Confidential Information disclosed.

Section 9. Governing Law and Jurisdiction

This Agreement shall be governed by and construed in accordance with the laws of the State of Florida, without regard to conflict of law principles. The parties consent to jurisdiction in the state and federal courts located in Florida.

Section 10. Entire Agreement

This Agreement constitutes the entire agreement between the parties concerning the subject matter and supersedes all prior negotiations and agreements, whether written or oral.
