NON-DISCLOSURE AGREEMENT

This Non-Disclosure Agreement ("Agreement") is entered into as of January 15, 2025 ("Effective Date"), by and between Soylent Inc., a Delaware corporation ("Disclosing Party"), and Pendant Corp., a California corporation ("Receiving Party").

Section 1. Purpose

The parties wish to explore a potential business relationship involving the development and commercialization of nutritional products and related technology. In connection with this evaluation, the parties may disclose to each other certain confidential information, technical data, business plans, and proprietary materials. This Agreement governs the treatment and protection of all such Confidential Information.

Section 2. Definition of Confidential Information

"Confidential Information" means all non-public information disclosed by one party to the other, whether in written, oral, electronic, or visual form, including but not limited to trade secrets, formulations, manufacturing processes, customer lists, financial information, marketing strategies, business plans, technical specifications, and product designs. Confidential Information does not include information that: (a) is or becomes publicly available through no breach of this Agreement; (b) was rightfully known to the Receiving Party prior to disclosure as evidenced by written records; (c) is independently developed without access to or use of the Disclosing Party's Confidential Information; or (d) is rightfully received from a third party without confidentiality obligations.

Section 3. Obligations of Receiving Party

The Receiving Party agrees to: (a) maintain the Confidential Information in strict confidence using the same degree of care it uses to protect its own confidential information, but no less than reasonable care; (b) limit access to the Confidential Information to employees, consultants, and advisors who have a legitimate need to know and who are bound by written confidentiality obligations at least as restrictive as this Agreement; (c) use the Confidential Information solely for the purpose stated in Section 1; and (d) not disclose the Confidential Information to any third party without the prior written consent of the Disclosing Party.

Section 4. Permitted Disclosures

The Receiving Party may disclose Confidential Information when required by law, court order, or government agency, provided that the Receiving Party: (a) promptly notifies the Disclosing Party in writing of the requirement; (b) cooperates with the Disclosing Party in seeking protective orders; and (c) discloses only the minimum information legally required.

Section 5. Return of Information

Upon termination of this Agreement or upon request by the Disclosing Party, the Receiving Party shall return or certify destruction of all Confidential Information in tangible form within thirty days, except that one archival copy may be retained for legal compliance purposes.

Section 6. Payment and Consideration

Soylent Inc. shall pay Pendant Corp. the sum of Twenty-Eight Thousand Dollars ($28,000.00) within thirty days of the Effective Date as consideration for Pendant Corp.'s participation in this evaluation and agreement to these confidentiality obligations.

Section 7. Term and Termination

This Agreement shall commence on the Effective Date and continue for a period of three years, unless earlier terminated. Either party may terminate this Agreement upon sixty days' written notice to the other party. Obligations regarding Confidential Information shall survive termination and continue for the duration of the three-year term.

Section 8. No License or Obligation

Disclosure of Confidential Information does not grant any license, right, or obligation to enter into any business relationship. Neither party is obligated to proceed with any transaction.

Section 9. Governing Law

This Agreement shall be governed by and construed in accordance with the laws of the State of California, without regard to conflicts of law principles.

Section 10. Entire Agreement

This Agreement constitutes the entire agreement between the parties concerning the subject matter and supersedes all prior negotiations and understandings.
