NON-DISCLOSURE AGREEMENT

This Non-Disclosure Agreement ("Agreement") is entered into as of January 15, 2024 (the "Effective Date"), by and between Soylent Inc., a Delaware corporation ("Disclosing Party"), and Wayne Corp., a California corporation ("Receiving Party").

Section 1. Purpose

The parties desire to explore a business opportunity involving nutritional product development and distribution channels. To facilitate this exploration, the Disclosing Party may disclose certain confidential and proprietary information to the Receiving Party under the terms and conditions set forth herein.

Section 2. Definition of Confidential Information

Confidential Information means all non-public information disclosed by the Disclosing Party to the Receiving Party, whether disclosed orally, in writing, or by inspection of tangible objects, including but not limited to: formulations, manufacturing processes, cost structures, customer lists, marketing strategies, business plans, financial projections, technical data, and research findings. Confidential Information shall not include information that: (a) is or becomes publicly available through no breach of this Agreement; (b) is rightfully received by the Receiving Party from a third party without confidentiality obligations; (c) is independently developed by the Receiving Party without use of or reference to the Confidential Information; or (d) is required to be disclosed by law or court order, provided the Receiving Party gives prompt notice to the Disclosing Party.

Section 3. Obligations of Receiving Party

The Receiving Party agrees to: (a) maintain the Confidential Information in strict confidence using reasonable care, but no less than the standard of care used for its own confidential information; (b) limit access to employees, contractors, and advisors who have a legitimate need to know and who are bound by written confidentiality obligations at least as restrictive as this Agreement; (c) not use the Confidential Information for any purpose other than evaluating the proposed business opportunity; and (d) not disclose the Confidential Information to any third party without prior written consent of the Disclosing Party.

Section 4. Permitted Disclosures

Notwithstanding Section 3, the Receiving Party may disclose Confidential Information to the extent required by applicable law, regulation, or court order, provided that the Receiving Party gives the Disclosing Party prompt written notice of such requirement and cooperates with the Disclosing Party in seeking protective orders or other appropriate remedies.

Section 5. Term

This Agreement shall commence on the Effective Date and continue for a period of one year, unless earlier terminated in accordance with Section 6.

Section 6. Termination

Either party may terminate this Agreement by providing forty-five days' written notice to the other party. Upon termination, the Receiving Party shall, at the election of the Disclosing Party, either return or certify the destruction of all Confidential Information within thirty days, provided that one archival copy may be retained for legal and compliance purposes and shall remain subject to the confidentiality obligations herein.

Section 7. Consideration

In consideration for the disclosure of Confidential Information and the obligations undertaken herein, the Receiving Party shall pay to the Disclosing Party a one-time fee of thirty-four thousand dollars ($34,000.00) within thirty days of the Effective Date. Such payment is non-refundable except as expressly provided by applicable law.

Section 8. No License or Obligation

Disclosure of Confidential Information does not grant any license or right to the Receiving Party, nor does it obligate either party to enter into any business transaction or continue negotiations.

Section 9. Governing Law

This Agreement shall be governed by and construed in accordance with the laws of the State of California, without regard to its conflict of law principles.

Section 10. Entire Agreement

This Agreement constitutes the entire agreement between the parties concerning the subject matter hereof and supersedes all prior understandings and agreements, whether written or oral.
