NON-DISCLOSURE AGREEMENT

This Non-Disclosure Agreement ("Agreement") is entered into as of the date last signed below ("Effective Date") between Wonka Inc., a corporation organized under the laws of Delaware ("Disclosing Party"), and Vandelay Corp., a corporation organized under the laws of New York ("Receiving Party").

Section 1. Purpose

The parties wish to explore a potential business opportunity and related matters of mutual interest. In connection with this exploration, one or both parties may disclose to the other party certain confidential and proprietary information, technical data, trade secrets, business plans, financial information, and other sensitive materials. This Agreement establishes the terms and conditions under which such Confidential Information will be protected.

Section 2. Definition of Confidential Information

"Confidential Information" means all non-public information disclosed by the Disclosing Party to the Receiving Party, whether disclosed orally, in writing, electronically, or in any other form. Confidential Information includes but is not limited to technical data, trade secrets, business strategies, financial records, customer lists, pricing information, product specifications, research and development materials, and any other information marked as confidential or that reasonably should be understood as confidential given its nature and circumstances of disclosure.

Section 3. Exclusions from Confidential Information

Confidential Information does not include any information that: (a) is or becomes publicly available through no breach of this Agreement; (b) was lawfully in the Receiving Party's possession prior to disclosure, as evidenced by written records; (c) is rightfully received by the Receiving Party from a third party without confidentiality obligations; (d) is independently developed by the Receiving Party without use of or reference to the Confidential Information, as evidenced by written records; or (e) is required to be disclosed by law or court order, provided the Receiving Party gives the Disclosing Party prompt written notice to permit the Disclosing Party to seek protective measures.

Section 4. Obligations of Receiving Party

The Receiving Party agrees to: (a) maintain the Confidential Information in strict confidence using the same degree of care it uses for its own confidential information, but no less than reasonable care; (b) limit access to the Confidential Information to employees, contractors, and advisors who have a legitimate need to know and who are bound by written confidentiality obligations; (c) not use the Confidential Information for any purpose other than evaluating the potential business opportunity; and (d) not disclose the Confidential Information to any third party without the prior written consent of the Disclosing Party.

Section 5. Payment

Within thirty days of the Effective Date, the Receiving Party shall pay the Disclosing Party a non-refundable evaluation fee of Twenty Thousand Dollars ($20,000.00). This fee constitutes consideration for the disclosure of Confidential Information and grants the Receiving Party the right to evaluate the business opportunity under the terms of this Agreement.

Section 6. Term and Termination

This Agreement shall commence on the Effective Date and continue for a period of three (3) years, unless earlier terminated. Either party may terminate this Agreement upon sixty (60) days' written notice to the other party. Upon termination, the Receiving Party shall either return or destroy all Confidential Information within thirty (30) days, at the Disclosing Party's option, and certify such return or destruction in writing.

Section 7. Governing Law

This Agreement shall be governed by and construed in accordance with the laws of the State of California, without regard to its conflict of law principles. The parties consent to the exclusive jurisdiction of the state and federal courts located in California.

Section 8. Remedies and Entire Agreement

The parties acknowledge that breach of this Agreement may cause irreparable harm not fully compensable by damages. Accordingly, the Disclosing Party shall be entitled to seek equitable relief, including injunctive relief. This Agreement constitutes the entire agreement between the parties regarding the subject matter and supersedes all prior negotiations, representations, and agreements.
