This Non-Disclosure Agreement ("Agreement") is entered into as of the date last signed below ("Effective Date"), by and between Umbrella Inc., a corporation organized and existing under the laws of the State of Delaware ("Disclosing Party"), and Hooli Corp., a corporation organized and existing under the laws of the State of California ("Receiving Party").

Section 1. Recitals

WHEREAS, the parties desire to explore a business opportunity involving the provision of services and exchange of confidential information; and

WHEREAS, the parties wish to protect such confidential information by establishing terms and conditions governing its disclosure and use;

NOW, THEREFORE, in consideration of the mutual covenants and agreements contained herein, the parties agree as follows:

Section 2. Definitions

"Confidential Information" means all non-public information disclosed by the Disclosing Party to the Receiving Party, whether in written, oral, electronic, or visual form, including but not limited to business plans, financial data, technical specifications, trade secrets, proprietary methodologies, customer lists, pricing information, and strategic initiatives. Confidential Information does not include information that is or becomes publicly available through no breach of this Agreement, was rightfully known prior to disclosure, is independently developed without use of the Confidential Information, or is lawfully received from third parties without confidentiality restrictions.

Section 3. Obligations of Receiving Party

The Receiving Party agrees to maintain the confidentiality of all Confidential Information and to protect it using the same degree of care it uses to protect its own confidential information, but no less than reasonable care. The Receiving Party shall limit access to the Confidential Information to employees, contractors, and agents who have a legitimate need to know such information and who are bound by confidentiality obligations substantially similar to those contained herein. The Receiving Party shall not use the Confidential Information for any purpose other than evaluating the proposed business opportunity without prior written consent from the Disclosing Party.

Section 4. Permitted Disclosures

The Receiving Party may disclose Confidential Information when required by law, court order, or regulatory authority, provided that the Receiving Party provides the Disclosing Party with prompt written notice of such requirement, to the extent legally permitted, and cooperates with any effort by the Disclosing Party to obtain protective orders or other appropriate remedies.

Section 5. Term and Termination

This Agreement shall commence on the Effective Date and continue for a period of two (2) years, unless earlier terminated by either party upon fifteen (15) days' written notice to the other party. Upon termination, the Receiving Party shall, at the Disclosing Party's election, return or destroy all Confidential Information and certify such return or destruction in writing within thirty (30) days of termination.

Section 6. Consideration

The Receiving Party acknowledges receipt of this Agreement and the opportunity to review the Confidential Information as valuable consideration. The parties further agree that a payment of One Hundred Fifty-One Thousand Dollars ($151,000) shall be made by Hooli Corp. to Umbrella Inc. within thirty (30) days of the Effective Date as additional consideration for the exchange of information and the parties' mutual obligations hereunder.

Section 7. No License or Obligation

No license, ownership interest, or obligation to proceed with any business transaction is granted or implied by this Agreement. Either party may terminate discussions at any time without liability.

Section 8. No Warranty

The Confidential Information is provided on an "as-is" basis without warranty of any kind, express or implied, regarding its accuracy, completeness, or validity.

Section 9. Remedies

The parties acknowledge that breach of this Agreement would cause irreparable harm not adequately remedied by monetary damages. Accordingly, the Disclosing Party shall be entitled to seek injunctive relief in addition to other available remedies.

Section 10. Governing Law

This Agreement shall be governed by and construed in accordance with the laws of the State of Illinois, without regard to its conflicts of law principles.
